Invitation to explore careers in business academia

PURSUE A SUCCESSFUL CAREER IN BUSINESS ACADEMIA

INSEAD invites prospects curious about the world and wants to make an impact through research to pursue its premier doctoral degree in management - the INSEAD PhD.

The INSEAD PhD welcomes candidates with competitive backgrounds in academics or industry. Through the programme's rigorous research training, PhD students will gain skills and knowledge to excel as academic researchers, creating timely and relevant research. Undergraduates in their final year, new alums, master's students and research fellows with varying work and experience levels are welcome to apply.

Regardless of background, all admitted PhDs receive 5-year funding.
(Please visit insead.ad/phd-financing for the latest information).

INSEAD offers a unique and fully-funded doctoral degree that prepares you to conduct cutting-edge research and teach concepts and methods that help you become more effective management professors and academic researchers.

PhD graduates secure top academic placements in leading business schools globally - Bocconi, Copenhagen, LBS, LSE, Lisbon, Imperial College of London, Oxford, Rotterdam Erasmus, Stanford, Darden, Foster, Michigan Ross, Columbia, Emory, Georgia Tech, Northwestern, UCLA, Yale, Vanderbilt, CEIBS, HKUST, Tsinghua, the National University of Singapore and Singapore Management University, among others.

Aside from the prestige an academic career brings, starting salaries for assistant professors in these top business schools remain attractive and competitive compared to industry professions.

PROGRAMME DETAILS

Regardless of your subject area background, you specialise in one of the eight areas offered: Accounting, Decision Sciences, Entrepreneurship, Finance, Marketing, Organisational Behaviour, Strategy, or Technology and Operations Management.

PhD in Management

Intellectual Leadership. Influential Scholarship.

As a PhD student, you spend five years of full-time studies at INSEAD. You spend years 1 and 2 for coursework, where you master the state-of-the-art disciplines and methodologies of the practice and conduct of management research. Completing your comprehensive exam at the end of the 2nd year and validating your research paper requirements mark the start of your dissertation stage in Year 3.

In the final three years, you devote time to deepening your research skills and knowledge in your chosen field, culminating in the submission and defence of the dissertation. Moreover, your research papers are of publishable quality and, more often, are on their way to publication, preparing you for an exciting career in business academia. In addition, you will receive graduate teaching training through the teaching preparation programme and practicum.

WITH THE INSEAD PHD, YOU:

- Study in France and Singapore, and go for a mandatory campus exchange; benefit from the strategic alliances with Wharton and Sorbonne Université
